II. MATERIALS AND METHODS

A. Objective and methodology of Research

This study used qualitative research methods (Qualitative Research), the details of how the process can be divided into two parts

1. Data collection Researchers using observations with the depth interview about the study.

2. Data analysis Researchers using triangulation method to analyze qualitative data with classification data obtained from the interview transcripts separate issues and resources. Then, analyze and evaluate the meaning of the data within the context of the data source. The data come from a detailed analysis of logic and observation. The data were analyzed by interpreting logical conclusion Inductive analysis.

III. RESULTS OF DATA ANALYSIS

The study about Comments and role of the guide Thailand travel guide for tourists to raise awareness and consciousness. The objective was to explore the opinions of the tour guides about Thailand realize. The research data were collected by interview with a 100 guiding tours in tourist areas in Bangkok. The data showed that the primary mostly males than females. And a guided tour of a minor Inbound Outbound and Domestic. This interview is the question that about the purpose of this study is a review of Thailand with a tour guide at the conscience.

The study found that The role of the guide Thailand travel guide for tourists to raise awareness and consciousness. As well as understanding the correct destination to create a friendly local population in the highest level. Because of guides career is like a cultural ambassador that rely on tourism, visitors and community in duties. So in tours each guide must be those who have to be have as a good model for the tourists to see and seize regulatory compliance regulations for tourist attractions. The guides will notice various regulatory compliance including what travelers should do or should not do while in tourism, especially in the palace measure Monastery landmark cultural traditions, religious places in the tour, each guide can serve as a good model for travelers by providing accurate information, provide guidelines for the tourists to visit tourist attractions without distorting information or data casualness. If tourists should not behave improperly, guides must dare to monitor and explain what is required for visitors to understand the culture, regulatory or good things to do in tourism in the sights.

In the tour, guides can be a good practice model to tourists can by following this practice

1. Practice good for visitors to see and follow the rules of attraction. Most of the attractions are featured on the tour guiding or because they can control the tidiness of tourists. It should be good practice to tourists because most of sites or places that tourists visit the service have a soft spot for tourists to communicate an understanding of the rules, courtesy to visit or access. The tour guide was very influential in intermediation in coordinating mutual understanding.

2. To act as a role model to visit particular attractions as historic palaces should guide the tourists to know and understand the justification and good cultural of Thailand. These can be possible by guiding them to perform a role model for their tourists to see.

3. The adoption of a code of conduct guide. Ethics will be an anchor to the guide to do good things as a good role model. Guides should be aware of what are the lessons that have shown in negative happenings from the news. This will be a memorial to the escort duties properly by way of a magnificent career.

4. To provide accurate information about what travelers should do or should not do while on vacation in tourist destinations. Visitors will get a deep impression and reduce the tourists to access a low visitor quality. Reduce problems for tourism or places that they visited as much as possible.

5. Tour guides should take care and not to exploit tourists. Guides will also be rewarded with attractive for tourists or impression in the duties of a tour guide. This guide will take pride more than anything else.

6. Encourage tourists to help preserve and maintain the tourism sites in the same condition. If you want to be Greenway guide, you should find a way to build knowledge and understanding in that area of tourism. Guiding with nature lifestyle, understand the culture of tourism so all of this will be for a long time.

7. Tell the value and origin of the attractions for tourists and travelers to be a great traveler. Each attraction has strength and not the same in each so a good guide should tell visitors to know and understand the visited places for most value. And it is important to mention a positive impression more than talking about the negative image.

8. Guides must dare to monitor tourists in case those tourists act inappropriately in the tourism attractions that are unique to the culture of Thailand. Most of guides tour afraid to blame their tourists because they fear that the tourists won't be satisfied in them. This action does not differ from hurting tourism community. A good guide should be considered a new attraction that is the livelihood income generation. If we don't help in providing accurate information or courage to do what tourists may feel forced one day we will run out of the profession and it will not be good for the tourist attraction anymore.

9. Guides must consider the interests of the country and the agency over their own benefit. Do not rush tours to take visitors into the store to earn extra money. If service is short of something it should be filled to visitors. Guides should sacrifice their personal happiness for visitors to get more comfortable and Impression

The information above is why guides should approach to tourism awareness to complement the tourist attraction that still looks natural and cultural history. Visitors should have been filled in the knowledge that not to break the rules and do not create any problems. Guides should find a way to build understanding, notice and act as a good example for tourists to see. Find a way to raise awareness for tourists to travel to cooperate together in the right way. For his part, willing to cooperate with guide and tourist visits to every question that should follow. They should communicate to travelers to see the uniqueness of Thailand. The practice of guiding in the role of preservation and creation of awareness for tourists to realize before, during and after visit tourist attraction by focusing on the tour is ideal for visitors to see.
