The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences attends the meeting about the university's strategic road map in information technology and academic resources.

21 June 2019, Pairach Siriwanapisal, a public relations officer, and Kritpakorn Bunma, a computer technical officer, from the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences attended the meeting about the university's fast track development for 2019 financial year in 9 months. Assistant Professor Dr. Sirilak Ketchaya, Director of Academic Resource and Information Technology, was the chairperson of the meeting at the computer laboratory rooms 1 & 2, the building 31. She reported its performance and provided guidelines in developing a road map to achieving the university's predetermined goals of information technology and academic resources.
