

Management Information System Program of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences had the preparation project for the freshmen, the seminar on “Live and Learn in Suan Sunandha, Management Information System learning for entering digital technology work line”

on 15th August, 2019 at 9.00-12.00 a.m., Management Information System Program of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences had a seminar on the preparation and foundation knowledge project about Management Information System (MIS) in the topic of “Live and Learn in Suan Sunandha, Management Information System learning for entering digital technology work line” at Nipa Nobhadol meeting room.

The alumni including expert junior and senior students were invited to join the talk and shared their experience to the freshmen and sophomores for developing the students to have the right MIS proficiency according to the desired characteristics of the graduates in the field of digital technology.