The encouragement project for lecturers and students of Law program, faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, in doing academic performance in the fiscal year of 2020

Law program in the faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences organized academic journal writing and research workshop according to the suitable research methodology for lecturers and Law Students on November 13th, 2019. The purpose of the project was to encourage both lecturers and students to have academic performance in the fiscal year of 2020. The workshop was honored by Professor Dr. Pairoj Kampusiri, lecturer from the faculty of Law at Thammasat University, as the guest speaker at Nipanapadol Conference Room in building 35 on the 2nd floor.

Law program hopes that this project is going to enhance Law lecturers to do academic works and having academic performance. Moreover, Law students are going to prepare for doing research and writing academic articles to publish in academic journal and have a great performance to join National and International Conference in response to the policy of the university.
