

Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences held a Chinese proficiency test (HSK)

Chinese Language Program, Department of Humanities, Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences held a Chinese proficiency test on July 18^{th,} 2020 after having unlocked various measures from the spread of the COVID-19 virus. The examination management department has strictly implemented safety measures in accordance with the university's policy. The examination candidates and officers have to wear safety masks, installing a hand wash gel, body temperature measurement, and social distancing to prevent the spread of the COVID-19 virus.