Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences was welcome the assessment for the “ Beautiful building without trash.”

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences greeted the building inspection committees for the “ Beautiful building without trash” on December 16th, 2020. The Management and Administration Officer from the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences led the inspector committees to inspect the office of the Dean, the operating room, classrooms, computer laboratories, and the overall environment of Building 35, the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. The observation went well with favorable comments from the committees about cleanliness. The committees also gave suggestions about the areas that need improvement.
