Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences had an academic support personnel meeting to provide the operational policies during COVID-19 epidemic

Ms. Amornwadee Klinchan, head of the Office of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, chaired the meeting of the head of academic support personnel on January 4, 2021, to provide policies and operational guidelines for the COVID-19 epidemic by allowing personnel to work at their residence (work from home). Moreover, there was a working schedule for officers of each department and a performance tracking to work effectively in line with the online teaching and learning for the faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences.
